The old . . . S.C.O.W.

The new . . . Student Union.

FOREWORD

In the past few years there has been a growing awareness of a change in the college of the murmuring mountains. Students, administration, alumni, and townspeople sense that new life is being breathed into Wesleyan and watch with anticipation as she stirs and rises, flexing academic, social, and cultural muscles. The task of every student is to recognize the new and the old in his own surroundings and to relate their meanings to each other. He must know the value of his heritage, yet feel the thrill of contemporary innovations. This knowledge is essential in recognizing the part of the old in determining the new, and the limitations placed on the new by the old. Our college community is a testing ground where the old and the new meet and link together.

The upperclassman returned to Wesleyan's campus this year to be reacquainted with old friends and familiar scenes. Agnes Howard Hall, Senior Walk, the sundial, the S.C.O.W., and the oak trees were a welcome sign of previous years of happy experiences. They represented a stability that he had felt in going home the first time his freshman year. "Remember when" 's and "Let's do it again" 's rang out in memory of past school days. He was reminded of the underlying ideals that are a part of Wesleyan's tradition. Remnants of Wesleyan's early days are still spotlighted amidst the rapidly expanding campus. The Science Hall, Agnes Howard, the Lynch-Raine Administration Building, and the "Music Box" are symbols of life at Wesleyan during the early part of the century. Since 1890 the campus has been a mainstay of the community as a representative of Christian education and as a source of cultural, economic, and social welfare. These are evidences of the history of Wesleyan represented through many of the establishments, the student body, and the community.

These returning students found that Wesleyan's importance is not only historical, but that it is also current as well as prospective. Many new features were found to be interspersed in the college life. A new building for men's living quarters formed a triangle by its position between McCuskey and Fleming Halls. There was a gaping hole behind the football field showing promise of a new student center. Another part of the "newness" of any school is its new students of which we have a good share. The freshman faces an entirely new set of circumstances as he enters really serious preparation for adult life. Here at Wesleyan the freshman may find sincere attachments and lasting friendships that he has had before and longs for again in a strange environment. The fresh and new are significant and vital to Wesleyan.

Thus with the 1962 edition of MURMURMONTIS we salute the spirit and progress of West Virginia Wesleyan College. This progress is epitomized by discarding worn-out policies, rejecting those traditions which are impractical, and by dusting and polishing the time-honored standards which are Wesleyan's foundation. For the Bobcats there is still a reverence for the past and a deep respect for their heritage. It is of vital importance to realize, applaud, and stimulate the ever-moving spirit of Wesleyan. In stagnation lies apathy, and in apathy lies the doom of democracy. We can see in Wesleyan a pride in the difference between the old and new, and yet a desire for a union which will make stagnation impossible.

IN RETROSPECT . . .

DR. RALPH C. BROWN

The life of Dr. Ralph C. Brown is that of a scholar. His discovery of vitality makes him immortal to West Virginia Wesleyan College. To the lives of all Wesleyanites he has been a brilliantly illuminating example. He has been directly related to Wesleyan since the early part of the century when he was a student of its resources, then a revealer of its promise. His devotion and humor in imparting his knowledge in the classroom and faculty assembly will forever be a bulwark to ever-moving Wesleyan.

Grafton High School gave him his first preparation to teach. Realizing the tremendous task of a teacher, he entered West Virginia Wesleyan College where his serious efforts rewarded him with a bachelor of arts degree magna cum laude in 1915. After Wesleyan he attended West Virginia University and later Boston University School of Theology. While he was a student he also served as a minister to Methodist churches where on his circuits of widely-scattered churches he rode horseback but once. His undying energy and perseverance kept him true to the ideals to which he was dedicated.

Wesleyan recognized her past student in 1922 by granting him a place on the faculty as a professor of Bible, philosophy, and Greek. Dr. Brown quickly became a coveted instructor as the Old Testament prophets, and the New Testament spirit became a living force in his classrooms. His voice became respected by students and colleagues alike.

As a member of Wesleyan's faculty, he represented a view of one who was completely involved yet had the perspective of being observingly detached. He now sees the college as a past experience, but as a member emeritus and as a living example he is an integral part of West Virginia Wesleyan College—now and ever. To Dr. Ralph C. Brown, true scholar, we dedicate this book.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Presided over by Myron B. Hymes, the Board of Trustees makes the decisions which determine Wesleyan's success and rate of achievement. The Board, composed primarily of leading clergy and laymen of the Methodist Church, holds its regular meetings on Founders' day and at graduation. At these times, the annual budget is prepared and the operational policy of the school is reviewed and revised.

PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE

Life has many dimensions but one of the most important is that of time—past, present, and future. An institution such as Wesleyan has an unusual relationship to this dimension, for in a very real sense it is a custodian of time. Within the sacred walls of its buildings and within the bounds of its campus it must preserve the richness of tradition, while at the same time foster a vital present and project a hopeful future.

It is our privilege today to be a part of this creative process—a process that contributes much to each of us while requiring even more. As we are nurtured by the past we are challenged to make this hour a fruitful one and the future one of promise. Out of our present efforts we build the structure of tomorrow—a future in which our highest dreams and expectations may find fulfillment. May this issue of the MURMURMONTIS serve as a bridge between yesterday and tomorrow and may you find in its pages a reflection of happy days spent on campus.

Stanley H. Martin
President

VICE-PRESIDENT

L. BUCKLIN

In his second year as Vice-President of the College, Mr. Leonard W. Bucklin has been actively supervising the vast expansion program at Wesleyan. Under his guidance the new Student Union is at last becoming a reality. Plans for expansion in the direction of a new science hall and a new gymnasium are being drawn up by Mr. Bucklin.

DEAN OF THE COLLEGE

One of the busiest and most well-known figures on Wesleyan's campus is Dr. Orlo Strunk, Academic Dean of the College. In addition to his many responsibilities as Dean, Dr. Strunk is recognized as one of the rising young leaders in pastoral psychology. He is author of a recently-published book entitled RELIGION: A PSYCHOLOGICAL INTERPRETATION and has had many articles published in such periodicals as PASTORAL PSYCHOLOGY, THE BAPTIST STUDENT, and CHRISTIAN CENTURY. This summer Dean Strunk will accept a position as visiting professor of psychology of religion at Boston University.

Perhaps the Dean's most outstanding quality is his evident dedication to Wesleyan and to the fulfillment of its unique role as a church college. Dr. Strunk says that the fact that Wesleyan is a church college is more important now than it has ever been. In this time of progress and gradual change, he feels that it is important for Wesleyan to "assure the future of its noble past." In all our strivings we must continually return to the grass roots—to the principles upon which Wesleyan was founded. If we are to have any dynamics for the future, they will exist as a result of what has gone in the past. Dean Strunk hopes to see the fulfillment of the realization that Christian principles are relevant to all areas of life. Only then can Wesleyan truly attain its potential role in education.

Thus we see that Dean Strunk is playing an important role in Wesleyan's progress as he vehemently declares that utility in all of life can be achieved by the church college as long as the Christian faith is never limited to a department of religion. Rather, it must be seen to be so broad that it will include the whole system of the liberal arts education and more.

ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT

JAMES STANSBURY

In another recently-created administrative position is Mr. James Stansbury, Assistant to the President. He serves the college as director of schedules and arrangements for summer conferences, tours, and official occasions. The new information desk, which coordinates all campus activities and information is the latest of Mr. Stansbury's accomplishments and additions to the Wesleyan spirit of progress in action.

As a mainstay of the campus, the administration building houses offices and classrooms.

TREASURER

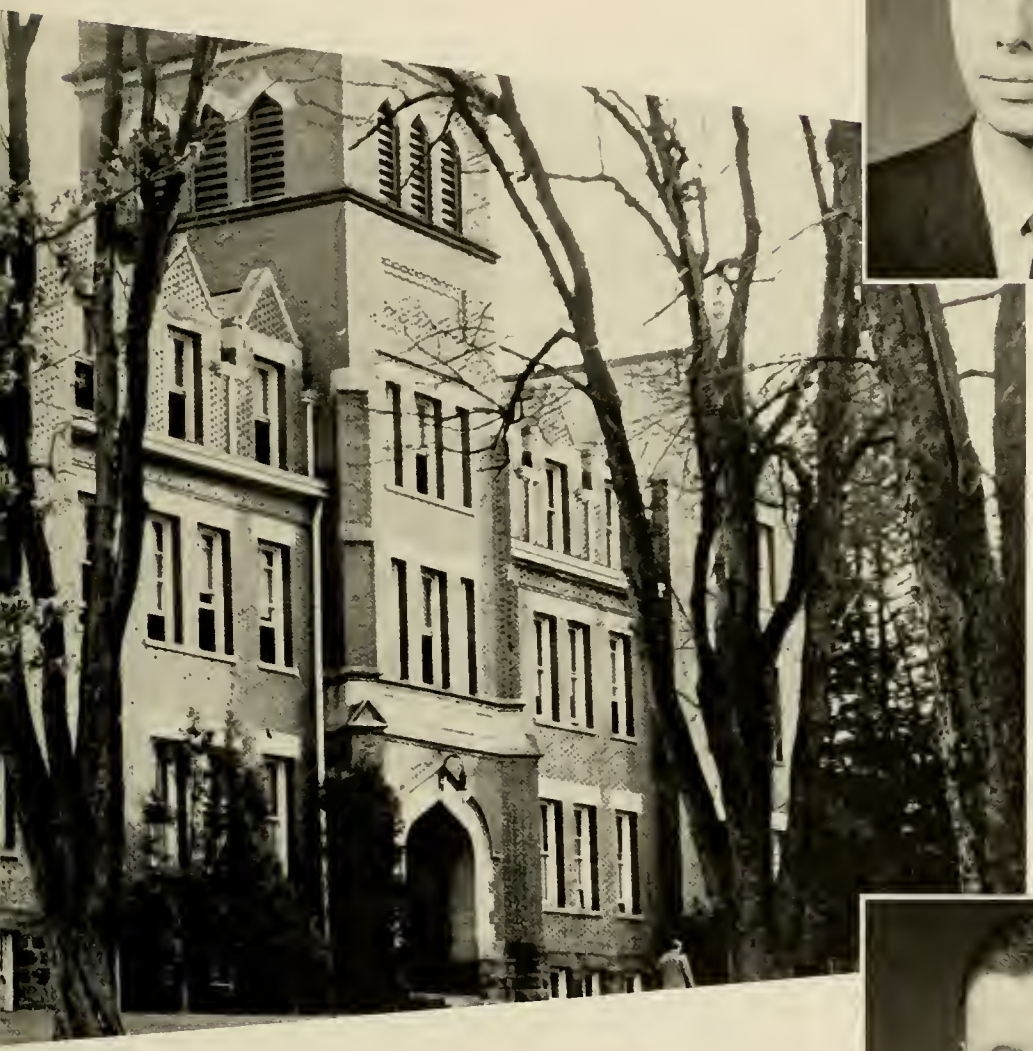
HEYWARD A. WILLIAMS

Always a tradition at any college is the collection, organization, and distribution of finances. Propagating this tradition at Wesleyan is Mr. Heyward Williams, Treasurer of the College. Accuracy and efficiency are the "hey-words" for Mr. Williams' office and he and his staff see that the students and the college fulfill their obligations to each other.

REGISTRAR

Mr. Patton L. Nickell, after working in the admissions office during his years as a student at Wesleyan, now serves the college as Registrar. In this position he must schedule classes and final examinations, register students, prepare transcripts, and maintain permanent records. His scope of responsibility has now been extended to include summer sessions, extension, and evening classes.

PATTON L. NICKELL



DIRECTOR OF ADMISSIONS

Before arriving on campus, new students receive their first impression of the Wesleyan community through Mr. Raymond Kiser, Director of Admissions. Much of his year is spent in contact and conversation with high school juniors and seniors about the importance of a college education. Because of his effectiveness, Mr. Kiser is revered as one of Wesleyan's greatest media in transmitting the warmth and enthusiasm so typical of Wesleyanites.

RAYMOND KISER

RICHARD CUNNINGHAM

DEAN OF STUDENTS

An extremely active position among the administrators of Wesleyan maintaining the equilibrium of the "old and new" is that of the Dean of Students. Mr. Richard Cunningham is continually striving to bring students, administration, and faculty together as a closely-woven body, known better as the "Wesleyan family." The Dean of Students places as his first duty that of serving each individual student. Other duties include the operation of the Student Personnel Center and guiding Wesleyan in the Community Council, student aid and student housing.

A dream is realized with the completion of the men's quadrangle.

DEAN OF MEN

Fifteen years ago John D. Shaver came to the Wesleyan campus as Chairman of the Department of Speech and Dramatic Arts. Mr. Shaver was first appointed Dean of Men Students in 1954, and he has held this position for the past seven years. In addition to counseling students, Mr. Shaver heads the chapel committee.

JOHN D. SHAVER

WILLIAM B. HICKS

SUPERINTENDENT OF FACILITIES

Preserving and enhancing Wesleyan's campus is the responsibility of Mr. William B. Hicks, Jr. Again, we find evidence of the "old and new" represented in his many duties. He has additional responsibility with the construction of the new student center.

CREEL S. CORNWELL

WALTER R. COLLINS

PUBLIC RELATIONS

In the forefront of Wesleyan's public relations expansion are two of the ablest men in this area. Mr. Walter R. Collins and Mr. Creel S. Cornwell. Mr. Collins' main concern is that of keeping in contact with the alumni and of maintaining their records. Co-worker Cornwell backs up Mr. Collins and keeps the public informed as to Wesleyan's current events through the press, radio, television, and various periodicals.

DEAN OF WOMEN

MARION McBRAIR

A charming addition to the administration at Wesleyan is Dr. Marion McBrair, Dean of Women. Dr. McBrair brings much valuable experience to Wesleyan from her position as past assistant dean at the University of Cincinnati.

In her capacity as Dean of Women, Dr. McBrair works with the Women's House Board, individually counsels women students, and acts as an advisor to the Panhellenic Council. Dr. McBrair, who has held positions at various universities and colleges, brings to Wesleyan new ideas which she hopes will aid in the expansion program and which will help West Virginia Wesleyan to serve its college community.

COLLEGE HOSTESS

Nellie G. Wilson, who served as Dean of Women Students at Wesleyan for eighteen years, is now the College Hostess, a new branch of the administration initiated this year.

Foremost among Miss Wilson's duties is the reception and entertainment of visitors to the campus. Miss Wilson also serves as head resident of Jenkins Hall, and she represents the college in the American Association of University Women. In general, the college hostess helps to maintain a climate favorable to the pursuit of the objectives of Wesleyan.

NELLIE G. WILSON

Dr. McBrair is officially welcomed to the Wesleyan family.

ART AND MUSIC

It is the purpose of the music and art departments to afford students the opportunity to develop understanding and appreciation of music and art, and to become accomplished artists in their respective fields. These departments contribute generously to the enrichment of the religious and cultural life of the college community, by providing organists and choral music for the weekly chapel services, faculty recitals, band concerts, oratorio performances, art exhibits, cooperation with the dramatic clubs' productions, and other programs which require the use of these talents.

Chairman of Division I is Mr. Robert E. Shafer.

It is the desire of the Division of Language and Literature that every student become aware of the rich cultural heritage which is his. More important, its purpose is to provide opportunities for the student's expression and interpretation of his own experience. Drama. debate, composition, and conversation are some of the division's outlets for this expression.

Once again this year the Canadian Players visited the campus under the auspices of this division. They presented two superb performances in Shakespeare's "King Lear" and Fry's "The Lady's Not For Burning."

The division welcomed a plant addition when the Language House was opened in September. Two new classrooms, a language laboratory, and extra office space for the staff was made available.

Dr. Leonard Roberts is the chairman of this division.

SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

Working under the leadership of Dr. Arthur B. Gould, the Division of Science and Mathematics successfully planned and activated numerous activities which not only gave Wesleyan an acceptable rating in the scientific field, but also contributed to the trend in experimentation. A newly established lab aided greatly in work concerning spectrosity and radio-active isotopes.

Supplementing the academic year was an address given by Dr. Morton R. Rubin, a noted meteorologist who visited the Antarctic during the I.G.Y.

Again this year, Wesleyan was host to the summer institute for junior high school teachers and outstanding high school students. This program is part of the National Science Foundation, and is closely supervised by Drs. Willis and Wright.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

H. BUHLER

Striving to prepare the Wesleyan student for the immense task of adapting to the adult role is the duty of the staff which comprises the Department of Social Sciences. In fulfilling such a role the student must develop socially, academically, and spiritually. In order to do this he must gain an awareness and appreciation of the social structure.

In addition to the role of instructor, the members of the staff sponsor and conduct the activities of various clubs and organizations.

BIBLE, RELIGION, AND PHILOSOPHY

The purposes of this division are to provide for all students an introduction to a view of the world and of man that integrates the findings and methods of science and philosophy with the essentials of Christianity, and to provide more thorough study in appropriate areas of the Division for those students who are preparing themselves to be teachers, ministers, and directors of religious education. Dr. Jose A. Franquiz, professor of philosophy, is chairman of the division.

Next year the Department of Religious Education will be incorporated into the Division. Rev. Sidney Davis as Chaplain, in addition to planning and presenting the weekly chapel services and conducting classes, is now the head of the Departments of Bible and Religious Education.

The Department of Philosophy has plans to bring a lecturer of national or international fame to the campus this year.

ARTS AND SCIENCES

The purpose of the Division of Arts and Sciences is to offer a wide assortment of courses in applied and vocational areas, to prepare students in such a way as to permit them to move directly into their professional work after college, and at the same time to give students ample opportunity to prepare themselves for graduate work.

Departments of the division include Business Administration, Secretarial Studies, Education, Home Economics, Library Science, Physical Education, and Religious Education.

The Department of Nursing is in process of being formed. Preparing for the first nursing students to be admitted in 1962, Miss George Rast has become a member of the faculty as associate professor of nursing.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP

SEATED, Left to Right: Dean Ruhlow, Dean Strunk, Dean Cunningham, W. Robinson, J. Hardy, J. Beaty, H. Campbell, Dr. Bowles, Mr. Stansbury. STANDING: G. Gallupe, D. Mills, R. Bolyard, D. Pearce, B. Mills, J. Burns, H. Morita, B. L. Emmerth, T. Waroblak, J. Lowe, J. Harman, N. Ovodow.

The Community Council successfully carries on the government of the campus life. The Council's responsibility entails formulating and executing rules, referring problems to properly qualified committees, and integrating the academic and social levels and their constituents. The Council strengthens the relations between the students and teachers while providing for good will among the classes. This year it initiated new customs and traditions for Freshmen, and strengthened prestige for the Seniors. The resulting unification, at the same time, gives all equal status in the college community. The Council coordinates activities of the student organizations. Action concerns carrying out inherited policies, amending faulty ones, and creating new ones for arising needs. This group is essential to our campus.

The purpose of the Academic Affairs Committee is to study academic life on campus and to make intensive surveys to find ways for developing a fuller and more complete curriculum. Cultural enrichment is another concern of this committee. Much time is spent in taking the pulse of student interest in this area and making suggestions to the SCOW Committee. The general direction and scope of this committee is to present an informative guide of campus life to the administration.

Barry Mills is chairman of the committee and the advisor is Mr. Shattuck.

AWAR

Working out plans for the addition of a publication's board is our Publications Committee's latest job. Chairman of this committee, Jon Lowe, and advisor, Mrs. Gordon Leckie, with their committee, have the power to appoint editors-in-chief, managing editors, and business managers of the Pharos and the Murmurmontis, and editor of the Student Handbook. This Community Council committee handles all dealings, both good and bad, which pertain to Wesleyan's publications.

The Awards Committee, headed by Dan Pearce, establishes criteria for the campus and departmental awards. Included in its responsibilities are the arranging for the Recognition Day Assembly in May, and the determining of the recipients of the Wesleyan Key. The committee also selected twenty of Wesleyan's most outstanding academic and social leaders to be nominated for listing in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Mr. Richard Cunningham, Dean of Students, serves as advisor to this committee.

SPECIAL ACTIVITIES

The Special Activities Committee, under the chairmanship of junior council member Bucky Bolyard, plans, organizes, and coordinates the big social weekends on Wesleyan's campus.

Chairmen are appointed to cover the dances, parades, judges, coronations, rules, and trophies during the Homecoming, May Day, and Christmas weekends. Mr. Walter Collins serves as advisor to the committee.

TRAFFIC

Each year the number of student drivers increases on Wesleyan's campus. The necessity for rules, regulations, and their enforcement has provided the traffic committee with an enormous undertaking. Sitting as a "court," the committee imposes fines on offenders and thus controls student driving on campus. This committee is headed by David Mills, with faculty assistance from Mr. Hicks and Mr. Groves.

WORLD UNIVERSITY SERVICE

Working in conjunction with the American National Committee of the World University Service, the purpose of the Service committee is to promote interest in, and show the need for material assistance in the field of education for the world university community. To provide for this aid, the committee held various fund raising affairs. The main activity of the group centered around WUS Week in April, and the annual auction and Carnival. The chairman of the group was Sophomore Representative, Harvey Morita.

EVALUATIONS

Donna Thomas serves as chairman of a newly-organized committee at Wesleyan. It is the purpose of the evaluations committee to evaluate the various phases of campus life. Information attained from the questionaires sent out is compiled and the results are sent to the community council to benefit that group and the administration.

A campus survey group received and replied to questionaires on social life, academic life, and ethical standards. Questionaires on academic life were filled out by members of the faculty. Mr. Charles Day serves as advisor for this committee.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The co-ordination of all campus social events can be attributed to the successful working of the Social Activities Committee, headed by Ted Waroblak. The committee prepares, with the aid of the Dean of Men and the Dean of Women, a social calendar for the year. They also approve or disapprove all proposed social functions.

SCOW

Under the able leadership of President Jason Harman, the Student Center continued to supplement activities on the social calendar to help fulfill campus needs. Week-end movies, all-campus mixers at the beginning of each semester and after basketball games, plus a special visit by Tommy Dorsey's Orchestra were some of the fruits of the SCOW Committee's work. Regular trips by the members of this committee were also made to supervise with a critical eye the construction of our new Student Center—unofficially, of course. Other officers are Dave Boston, vice-president; Sue Toothman, secretary; and Ted Waroblak, treasurer.

WOMEN'S HOUSE GOVERNING BOARD

The Women's Houseboard has been formed to help girls adjust to college life and to promote fellowship among girls living in the dormitories. Beverly Smith presides over the group and is assisted by Linda Janse, vice-president; Mayte Way; secretary; and Judy Langford, treasurer. This year for the first time each dorm had a separate house chairman. Meetings are held in the conference room of the advisor, Dean McBrair.

MEN'S HOUSE GOVERNING BOARDS

The purpose of the three men's house governing boards is to act as a judiciary body for all disciplinary action taken. The members are elected by the residents of their respective halls. With the aid of Dean Cunningham, the boards plan activities for various weekends and attend to the many matters concerned with dormitory living. At their weekly meetings, the board discusses problems, suggestions, and ideas presented by wing representatives which may bring about a more cohesive and cooperative dormitory system.

The presidents of each group are: Fleming Hall, Jay Baird; McCuskey Hall, Jim Marsh; New Men's Residence Hall, Sam Clymans.

SEATED, Left to Right: L. D. Montgomery, D. Chapman, P. Sams, D. Thomas, G. DeMatteo. STANDING: R. Willard, J. Marsh, W. Collins.

MURMURMONTIS

MURMURMONTIS' top five: Hiner, Brown, Leckie, Broughton, and Morrison.

"Accuracy is our motto—we never make misteaks." By this trademark was the 1962 MURMURMONTIS staff known. The experienced staff found ability and willingness in its volunteers. Although deadlines always came sooner than expected they were always met—one way or another—on time. The pages were eventually put together and, having taken the form of the 1962 MURMURMONTIS, were presented to President Martin at the annual Awards Assembly on May 3. At this same assembly the dedication was announced, and a complimentary yearbook was presented to Dr. Ralph C. Brown. At this time the name of the MURMURMONTIS Queen was revealed.

As each deadline neared, the most commonly heard expressions delivered in the midst of clacking typewriters and smoke, were: "Who's got the copy and picture for this layout?" "Somebody get some coffee," and "I need help!" The mixed emotions and moments of confusion, nevertheless, added an extra-special aura of excitement as "Ol' Fuss 'N' Feathers" Broughton finally said, "It's Done!"

The 1961 MURMURMONTIS staff smile their approval of the newly completed 1961 publication at their annual banquet.

Mrs. Leckie, advisor, Dave Brown, managing editor, Dick Morrison, business manager, and Becky Broughton, editor-in-chief, "fiddle" time away while the 1962 MURMURMONTIS undergoes its final publishing.

Dr Chrisman, to whom the 1961 MURMURMONTIS was dedicated, extends his heartfelt thanks for this honor.

PHAROS

SEATED: W. Canterbury. BACK ROW: J. Cline, W. McTaggart, J. Lowe, Mrs. Leckie, Advisor, G. Arnold, C. Mosher.

To begin the past year of journalistic work, Wesleyan's PHAROS editor, Bill Canterbury, attended the annual journalism convention which was held this year in Miami, Florida. Canterbury, a junior, put his new ideas to work with many additions to the layout of the PHAROS. The main feature of each issue is "The World with Comment," an informative and thought-provoking article of world affairs. The former editor, Robert Fuller, has been utilized well in this work. Another noteworthy addition is the section of letters to the editor. In this few fields are left undiscussed and little is withheld from the reader. "Carrie's Comments" is a new feature also which is highlighted by a cross section of campus views on varying subjects. A weekly crossword puzzle has also been added. Weekly, the sports writer, William McTaggart, a four year veteran discusses pertinent issues in his "Out on a Limb."

Information for other articles is supplied by the volunteer reporters. Editor-in-Chief is Bill Canterbury, with J. E. Lowe and Kathy Wiernasz as managing editors, Bob Gritzan as business manager, and Carol Mosher as advertising manager. Feature editor is Janice Cline; news editor, Glenda Arnold.

One of the most notable honoraries at Wesleyan is the Haught Literary Society, headed by President Donna Thomas, who is assisted by Joan Hardy, Vice-President and Sue Toothman, Secretary-Treasurer. This organization, composed of eleven outstanding upperclass women, promotes knowledge in the literary arts and world affairs among themselves and the campus in general.

Each fall an initiation banquet is held and a picnic is planned for spring. The group meets weekly to hear speakers on pertinent topics. Dr. Mary C. Brill is advisor to the honorary.

TORCH AN

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

Excellence and perseverance in the skills of the drama are the pre-requisites for the election to Alpha Psi Omega, national dramatic honorary fraternity. This fraternity exists to propogate an interest and appreciation of drama through presentations on campus. A total of five new members were initiated in January into the Alpha Rho Chapter.

The presentation of the one-act play "A Marriage Proposal" and the maintenance of a bulletin board with up-to-date theatrical news are two of the projects undertaken by Alpha Psi Omega.

Josette Wu is president and Mrs. Betty Norvell is advisor.

) TASSEL

The purpose of this honorary is to recognize men who have attained a high standard of leadership and scholarship and to bring together men representative of all phases of college life. Torch and Tassel provides a meeting ground for faculty members and student body on a basis of mutual interest, understanding and concern.

The group, under the leadership of President Ted Waroblak, meets every other Sunday at one of the fraternity houses represented in the group. Here they discuss topics of interest to all the men.

This organization is in the process of petitioning to become a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, a national leadership honorary, on which the constitution and organization of the Wesleyan organization are based.

Dean Richard Cunningham is advisor to the group.

BENZENE RING

"To create a greater interest in the science of chemistry" is the purpose set forth by the Benzane Ring. The oldest honorary on Wesleyan's campus offers to all those who aspire to membership, affiliation with the American Chemical Society.

This year the honorary's main project is a science fair held late in the year. Officers are President, Sharon Cottrill; Vice-President, Hayden Powell; Secretary, Vincent Nicely; Treasurer, Chester Mearns; Advisor, Dr. A. B. Gould.

BETA BETA BETA

Tri-Beta, national honorary biological society, exists to stimulate scholarship, disseminate scientific learning, and promote research in the area of biology. Lectures given by Dr. George Rossbach on "Costa Rica" and Dr. Little on the "Ability of Insects to Hear," provided much information for the biology enthusiasts. Another lecture by Miss Ann Dunbar on Africa was held in the spring, along with the annual banquet.

The group is led by Gwen Dunbar, President. She is assisted by Vice-President, Jack Gaarder; Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Ann Moore; and historian, Nancy Hess. Dr. George Rossbach is the Tri-Beta faculty advisor.

DELTA PSI KAPPA

Alpha Eta Chapter of Delta Psi Kappa is a part of a national professional Fraternity for women majoring and minoring in physical education. The purpose is to promote physical education.

Delta Psi Kappa is advised by Miss Janie Davis and led by Beverly Smith. Other officers are Barbara Watson, Ann Hale, Mildred Wells, Jo Ann Whitney, Nancy Hess, Pat Forshay, and Ann Johnson.

Concession stands at the athletic events, the chapel day program, and the annual track and field playday are sponsored by the group. Meetings are held in the Psi Kap room of the gym and are open to all those interested.

KAPPA PI

The newest honorary fraternity on Wesleyan's campus is Kappa Pi, honorary art fraternity. This is a national organization whose membership includes such well-known artists as Norman Rockwell, Frank Lloyd Wright, and Vincent Price.

The local chapter presented a student art show in the Contemporary Christian Art Festival held on campus this year.

Gwen Fuller is chairman of the honorary, and Mr. Stephen Tinelli and Mr. George Keester are advisors.

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

The Methodist Student Movement finds as its challenge to provide worship, recreation, and Christian fellowship for students of Wesleyan. Discussion groups, worship services, choir, drama productions, and service projects allow interested students to strengthen the work of the church. President Kenneth Ambrose leads the group and is advised by Dr. J. Hugh Cummings.

The choraleers, under the direction of Martha Alderson, represent MSM vocally at such campus activities as the Christmas tree-lighting party. Another organ of this group is that of the Wesley Dramateers. Fellowship teams assist in church services in outlying areas of central West Virginia. At Christmas, the KKKK group of MSM sponsors a party for the underprivileged children of Buckhannon. Other service projects include the visiting of invalids of Buckhannon and the sending of supplies overseas.

PRE-MINISTERIAL

Those young men who have chosen to serve God in the ministry have formed the Pre-ministerial Fellowship. Besides their weekly meetings in Brown Chapel. the group works with the Kris Kringle candy house. Glenn Kohlhepp served as president of the group and is advised by Dr. Ralph Grieser.

RELIGIOUS LIFE EMPHASIS

Religious Life Emphasis Week, held February 4-8, was planned and conducted in the interests of Christianity on campus. Dr. David Wynne, Executive Secretary of the Board of Missions and Church Union of the Pittsburgh Conference, was guest speaker at two chapel services, First Methodist Church, and various campus organizations. Dr. Wynne's primary concern was "Can we live as Christians today?" The week's activities were planned by Janice Cline and Dr. William Willis.

Organized for the purpose of strengthening Methodism on Wesleyan's campus, Kapp Phi and Sigma Theta Epsilon have achieved a level of esteem among both faculty and students. Not only do these groups serve religious needs. but they also undertake many service projects. Kappa Phi serves the faculty by providing babysitters, the community by distributing food baskets, and the world by supporting a Korean orphan. Sigma Tbeta Epsilon's major service project for this year is the sponsoring of a basketball game for the March of Dimes. In addition to its service projects. Sigma Theta Epsilon entertains Kappa Phi at their annual winter dinner-dance.

An organization devoted to the social and religious life of Catholic students at Wesleyan, the Newman Club has played an important role in establishing religious broadmindedness on campus. Related movies, guest speakers, and a spring dance contributed to strengthening the group. The new social hall of the Catholic Church was enjoyed in many activities. Gene Rall led the group and was advised by Father Murray.

CANTERBURY CLUB

To learn to serve God within the context of the Christian gospel the Episcopalian students at Wesleyan united to form the Canterbury Club. Under the advisorship of Rev. James H. Brennan, the pastor of the church in Buckhannon, and of Professor George B. Keester, the group holds monthly meetings at which visiting lecturers are presented. Personnel are contributed to the parish choir and the Sunday school from within the group. Two group activities of the year were the annual retreat and the spring picnic.

FIRST ROW, Left to Right: M. Ohno, Chaplain Davis, T. Walz. SECOND ROW: S. Watatuo, A. Master, S. Huang, N. Thakore. THIRD ROW: M. Soremekun, Y. Hahn, K. Solanki.

For those who come to Wesleyan unfamiliar with America and its customs. the organization for overseas students offers an opportunity for exchange of cultural enrichment. Under the direction of advisor Sidney Davis, the group endeavors to create and stimulate interest in cultural exchange in areas of recreation, food, songs, customs, and ideas. Their interest in this group adds an enjoyable and educational facet to Wesleyan's community.

HILLEL SOCIETY

The Hillel Society was established at Wesleyan in order to foster the Jewish principles among the students of that faith on this campus. Celebrated by the group are the annual Passover services. Lynne Hans is the acting chairman of this five member group. Chaplain Sidney Davis serves the group as advisor.

CHRISMAN CLUB

"To develop writing skills through the use of literary criticism" is the purpose of the Chrisman Club. Wesleyan's men's literary society.

The group meets bi-weekly through the year at various meeting places. Most of the meetings, however, took place at the home of Professor Orval J. Anderson, the faculty advisor.

The talents of the members are exhibited each year in the Laurel Review, the literary magazine of Wesleyan.

DEBATE SOCIETY

SEATED: Mr. Seifrit. STANDING: L. Caughey, D. Mundy, L. Hans, V. Grilling, D. Stephenson.

The Wesleyan Debating Society has as its purpose: to provide practical experience in logical reasoning, the analysis of important problems, and forensic speaking. Intercollegiate debate tournaments and televised debates provide valuable experience for these students. This year the group will attempt to repeat as state champions in debate. Mr. Seifrit, the advisor, provides his office as a meeting place for the debaters.

PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

To complement the academic study of psychology and to further independent work in this field is the endeavor of the Psychology Club. Under the leadership of President August Johnson. the group presented a program and survey on the psychology of jazz. Dean Strunk spoke to the group on the psychology of the Nativity. Other guest speakers were Professor Hunt. Dr. Franquiz. Miss Schnabel, and Rev. Brennan.

Advisors to the Psychology Club are Mr. Buhler and Dr. Clara Cooper.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The Sociology Club is a group which offers the interested student an opportunity to discuss papers and. with the aid of guest speakers, gain a greater understanding of the different phases of sociology. The center of the club's activities is its monthly dinner meeting. These activities are coordinated by President John Hardman, and the two faculty advisors, Dr. Florence Schaper and Dr. Henry Shissler.

Pi Epsilon Theta, the society for those interested in the discussion of philosophical concepts. has met this year under the advisorship of Dr. J. Benton Stearns. Their main purpose is to discuss topics which. for lack of time, have been neglected in the classroom. The bi-monthly meetings are occasionally highlighted by a panel discussion, one of them this year being on Existentialism. Also, this year, the fraternity held an annual banquet for its members. and later they attended the convention for the Philosophical Society.

An interest in hearing of and discussing the values of home economics is professed by the members of the Betty Lamp Club. To open its program for the year the club, led by President Diane Buenting Eppley, held a week-end planning retreat at Jackson's Mill. At Homecoming the annnual Waffle Breakfast, in honor of returning alumni, was served. In order to interest this year's freshman girls in the field of economics, a tea was held in the fall. This year a Christmas bazaar, exhibiting things made by the girls themselves, was held to increase the club's treasury. Mrs. Walls served as advisor for the club, which has its meetings in the cottage.

The SENA is established for those college students preparing for the vital profession of teaching. By developing an understanding of the profession through participation in the work of local, state, and national education associations, the members become more fully aware of their opportunities and responsibilities as teachers. Using a theme "Unity: Our Goal," SNEA sponsored many activities as its manifestation. These activities include National Education Week and a tea for retired teachers. Arlene Koblan is president of the group and is advised by Dr. Marinaccio.

Drama enthusiasts are able to utilize their talents in all phases of the theatrical arts by participation in Playshop. Members who excel in their dramatic endeavors are eligible for membership in Alpha Psi Omega, the national dramatic honorary fraternity.

Playshop presentations included "Christ in the Concrete City" and three one-act plays. Mrs. Betty Norvell is director of this dramatic workshop.

The Wesley Dramateers is an organization on Wesleyan's campus whose purpose is to learn more about drama through wholesome Christian activities. During the fall the group presented "Dust of the Road" and anticipates another successful production for the spring term.

The group represented MSM in this year's Wesleyantics and won first place among the independents. The Dramateers president is Ralph Beaver and cast director is Josi Wu.

"Physical fitness and its enjoyment" is the standard of the Woman's Recreational Association. WRA members improve skills through interest and enjoyment of recreational activities in which they can improve methods of officiating and help develop a high standard of sportsmanship. Roller skating parties, Red Riot Co-ed Night, picnics, and sports nights are WRA sponsored under leadership of Ann Hale.

A newly formed club on Wesleyan's campus is the SKI Club, headed by John Young. This group was organized to promote interest in and provide information on the sport of skiing. Snow was sparse in West Virginia so club activities were somewhat limited. In February the group went on a weekend ski retreat.

The purpose of the Wesleyan Young Republican Club is to provide a vehicle through which young people interested in good government, under Republican principles and candidates may become better informed citizens and future political leaders. This political organization, new to the campus this year, was organized by Bill Phillips, Jr., Director of the West Virginia College Young Republican Clubs. Included among the many activities this year are the Lincoln Day Dinner, with Daniel L. Louchey, former state chairman, as speaker; a campus program concerning the West Virginia Centennial; and an all-campus speaker, former governor, Cecil H. Underwood. The president of the group is Earl Luscombe.

CONCERT

The concert band, directed by Mr. Owen West, presented its first assembly of the season in December, and presented the winter concert in March. Late in March the group went on a one day tour to Lost Creek, West Virginia. May Day Weekend saw the presentation by the band of a combined concert, featuring several band directors of the area.

It is the purpose of the Wesleyan Chapter of the Music Educators National Conference to aid those students in music education to become better acquainted with materials, personalities, and professional activities of this year. Highlights of the year's activities were a trip to Pittsburgh to attend a symphony concert and the annual talent show. Dr. Robert Garretson, an author of music textbooks, of the University of Cincinnati, visited the campus chapter to deliver a lecture. Sally Bigelow served the group as president. She was assisted by Mr. Owen West.

The Wesleyan chapter of the American Guild of Organists was established to give interested students a better understanding of the duties and responsibilities of a church choir director and organist. At their monthly meetings the group discusses the recent department recitals and the improvements in the teaching of music. Mr. Weinberg, a concert organist, was a guest of the group in April. This year Nancy Holmberg served as President of the group. The group was advised by Mr. Robert Shafer.

HYMA GLEE CLUB

The Hyma Glee Club provides an opportunity for men who sing for pleasure and fellowship to present programs of musical entertainment for themselves and others. The group sings at various campus functions including the all-campus Christmas party and the college club tea. Under the direction of Mr. Loftis and Jim Knorr, the group plans several tours in the West Virginia area. Accompanist for the group is Robert Moore.

Mrs. Collins, choir director, and Nancy Holmberg, who served as choir accompanist for the past four years, stop for a moment to pose prior to one of their numerous rehearsals.

Keeping busy with several weekly rehearsals, chapel appearances, and special performances, Wesleyan's A Cappella Choir has achieved a mark of distinction throughout the campus, community, state, and eastern seaboard. The choir is ably directed by Mrs. Irma H. Collins and presided over by Jim Knorr. Other officers are Jack George, vice-president; Sue Rollins, secretary; Walt Webster, treasurer; and Nancy Davis, chaplain.

The highlight of Wesleyan's musical year was held at Christmastime when the choir presented Handel's "Messiah." During the yuletide season the choir also presented the Hanging of the Green and the "Gloria." In addition to the spring production, the choir conducted several tours.

Nancy Holmberg, a senior, for four years as choir accompanist, has constantly been an important factor in the choir's success.

WESLEYAN ORCHESTRA and CHORALE

The Wesleyan Orchestra, under the direction of C. B. Agey, adds a classical touch to Wesleyan's music department.

The orchestra presents programs in conjunction with the choir and chorale. They performed with the choir on Bishop's Day, accompanied the Chapel Choir for the Annual "Messiah" presentation at Christmas and gave a Spring Concert in April, consisting of Schubert's "Mass in G-Major." Besides travelling to various high schools in the area, the group also performed for the College Club, and other special events on and off campus.

The 21-voice Wesleyan Chorale, under the direction of Irma H. Collins, is a newly formed group which was organized to fill invitational engagements for the 1961-62 season. The chorale presented concerts at various churches and schools during the year, and appeared on WJPB-TV, and at Carnegie Music Hall in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

At Christmas, they presented Vivaldi's "Gloria," and at Easter, Schubert's "Mass in G-Major." Accompanying the group is Miss Nancy Holmberg.

WELCOME SWEET SPRINGTIME

Commencing the traditional May Weekend, the royal procession was held Friday night, May 5. Jack Hodge, master of ceremonies, crowned Phyllis Keene as Queen of the May. Queen Phyllis was attended by Ginger Power, Senior; Mary Jo Hodge, Junior, Jane O'Brien, Sophomore; and Becky Emch, Freshman.

The Queen and her court also reigned at the reception in their honor which followed the May Sing. Saturday night the weekend was climaxed by the traditional dance in honor of the Court.

"I crown thee, Queen Phyllis, Queen of the May."

MAY SING'S TOP GROUPS

Melodious voices, white coats, purple sashes, and Kappa Sigma Kappa captures top May Weekend trophies.

The annual competitive May Sing was held Friday, May 5, following the coronation. John Hodge, master of ceremonies, presented the trophies to outstanding groups of the Greek and independent divisions. Kappa Sigma Kappa was awarded first place, the trophy being received by President Brooks Jones. The winning songs were "This is My Country" and "No Man is an Island." Alpha Delta Pi was second among Greeks. The independent girls of Agnes Howard Hall were first in the independent division. Dick Yates of Kappa Sigma Kappa was chosen outstanding director of the evening as he received a perfect vote from all judges.

The independent women of Agnes Howard Hall prove true the old adage, "Practice makes perfect."

GRADUATION — MOMENTS TO REMEMBER

A large crowd of proud parents bask in the warm May sunshine during commencement.

To Wesleyan, the most important representative of the combination of memories, come to those who have spent four years exploring the new and different and are now on the edge of relying on their old experiences and accumulated knowledge. The persistent students have become learned scholars.

Perhaps it was during the last week-end of school that all four years of study finally began to solidify. It could have been during the official ceremony when, dressed in the black bachelor's gown, an eager graduate suddenly realized that he was out from under the overwhelming mass of knowledge, and ready to face the world at large.

President Martin presents one of several honorary degrees.

Randy Teaf and Barbara Stone show seniors the way to the Ad. Building.

MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS . . .

All these things took place at Wesleyan on a bright Monday morning in May 1961. A mass of bobbing mortar boards and swinging tassels filed into their seats in as stately a manner as possible for excited graduates. With the library as a most proper background the ceremony took place. The commencement address was presented by Dr. Paul Stewart, President of Waynesburg College, Waynesburg, Pennsylvania. Following this Dean Strunk presented each of the degree candidates with his A.B. or B.S. certificate. Thus four years of college work was brought to a magnificent climax for the Class of 1961.

Memories of the past days of term papers, dances, football games, "midnight oil," and comprehensives had their place in the mixed emotions of the freshly-minded graduates. Reminiscence of these old activities gave way, for the most part, to anticipation of practice and fulfillment of the past in new environments. Many soon encountered the business world, many moved to new college campuses to become students again. They are the old and the new of Wesleyan displayed to society, and Wesleyan is proud of them.

FRESHMAN WEEK — THE NEW LIFE

Upperclass girls do their part to welcome the neophytes.

It takes a lot of stamina to be a Freshman. It demands even more to survive Freshman Week. However, the casualty list is relatively small when compared to all the "matters of life and death" which occur during these few, seemingly endless days of beginning.

Weak knees, watery eyes, clammy hands, and a lump in the throat are symptoms of Freshman Week with a dual cause—the excitement and the inevitable but overwhelming wave of homesickness. Of any week in the whole year, this one is most likely to be remembered

The football team takes time out from practice to participate in a freshman food fest.

WELCOME FRESHMEN!

Freshmen dine with parents before becoming SAGA-ized.

Arriving on campus early in the morning, the new students were welcomed into the Wesleyan family by the upperclass men and women counselors. By noon, they dug themselves out of their rooms, piled to the ceiling with bags and boxes of belongings (all utterly useless!) to enjoy the barbecue on the campus lawn, served by SAGA Food Service. Their first official assembly as a class was the Freshman Convocation where parents and students became acquainted with the administration of the college. At this assembly, Miss Judy Burns, one of the Freshmen, spoke, revealing some of the wild and wonderful thoughts of a Freshman during her first day of college. When "Mom and Dad" finally drove away, the new students were left standing for the first time on their own two wobbly legs. And so . . . it began.

ORIENTATION TO THE NEW LIFE

"I hope I can wipe these answers off my fingernail before the proctor comes."

Carol Hess concentrates to remember the rainfall of Idaho for 1947.

Freshmen converse with faculty over a glass of punch.

The week flew by as the Freshmen made friends and got to know each other at the mixes, the SCOW, and the dining halls. They met the faculty and the administration at a formal reception. They learned about other phases of life at Wesleyan through assemblies introducing the various student leaders and organizations. A major portion of the week was spent taking tests—a barrage of tests—covering every facet of the Freshman's abilities, aptitudes, and attitudes. During this time the upperclassmen quietly collapsed, or bathed their aching feet, or both.

Little by little the Class of 1965 began to take shape and form. The Community Council's Freshman rules established protest from the victims. This, too, strengthened the class unity. Gradually, they became molded and shaped into one eager and enthusiastic whole, shouting "Wesleyan, here we come!"

Homecoming Queen

QUEEN REIGNS TRIUMPHANT

Coach Ross crowns the queen.

Queen Judy and her escort enter the Homecoming dance.

With the approach of autumn, to Wesleyan comes the festive weekend called Homecoming. October 13th marked the beginning of the annual affair this year. Fraternity houses and dormitories were filled with enthusiastic workers as the finishing touches were put on decorations before the judges arrived. Through the night, not quite completed floats were worked over frantically in order to be ready for the approaching parade.

Despite rain and fog on Saturday, Judy Bauserman was regally crowned Queen to reign over the festivities. Queen Judy proceded to her throne through the traditional arch of roses formed by her sisters. Queen Judy was attended by Mary Jo Hodge, senior; Judy Fredericks, junior; Lynn Nelson, sophomore; and Priscilla Pearson, freshman.

Queen Judy casts a knowing glance at Judy Fredericks and her escort.

HOMECOMING . . . WINNERS ALL

"We're marching together; we're the girls of A. D. Pi . . . plates!"

The variety show, in which both Greeks and independent organizations competed, provided light entertainment for students, faculty and visitors. After each group had presented their respective acts and skits, everyone joined in singing Greek songs, until William Seifrit, master of ceremonies, announced the winning groups. Kappa Sigma Kappa ran away with first place presenting a "Greek Tragedy." Theta Chi won second, and Methodist Student Movement took first in the independent division.

Mary Jo Hodge, Theta Chi sweetheart, gets the trophy away from jubilant director Bill McTaggart, long enough to pose with the brothers.

HOMECOMING . . . IN THE RAIN

Through the rain and fog, floats were driven, pulled, and carried through Buckhannon. Winning floats were announced at half-time of the traditional football game. They were: Alpha Delta Pi, first with their float "Drag-on to Victory." Theta Chi, second, with "Looks Like We'll Dunk'em. Donit?" and Alpha Xi Delta received honorable mention with "Whirl 'Em!" Neither rain, nor snow, nor sleet, seemed to be the comment as the stands were filled with alumni, parents, and students for the football game, which found the Bobcats victors over Glenville State.

Beauty and barber shops were over-crowded as students prepared for the climatic dance held Saturday evening. The dance, in honor of the queen, her court, and their escorts, placed an especially delightful and successful ending to Wesleyan's most exciting week-end.

The Queen steps from her coach.

The weatherman adds his touch to the festivities with a football downpour.

WINTER AT WESLEYAN

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly."

"While visions of sugar plums danced in their heads."

Around the 5th of December, a spark began to flicker around campus—in the dorms, at the SCOW, during classes, even at committee meetings! By December 15th, the spark had burst into the glowing flame of Christmas, complete with happy voices shouting season's greetings to all.

The advent season was ushered in on a serious note by the Playshop presentation of Christ in the Concrete City, directed by Mrs. Betty Norvell. Everyone was alerted through this drama to the deeper meaning of Christmas as we saw its culmination in the Passion. Once more the Crucifixion story unfolded—only this time modern man was Pilate. Thus the real joy of Christmas was revealed in a new and significant way.

No one could resist the Christmas Spirit. Everyone was infected: it became an epidemic. The Bobcat Band under the direction of Mr. Owen West presented a concert to the student body as a climax to the fall season of football games and parades. The orchestra and the College Choir added much to the Christmas Season at Wesleyan in their presentation of Handel's Messiah.

PEACE AND GOODWILL . . .

The combined efforts of the orchestra, choir members, and Mrs. Walter Collins, director, made this one of the most memorable holiday events. The voices rang out and the message was proclaimed. Indeed, it passed over no one who heard the glorious music. "Unto us a Son is given . . . Hallelujah! . . . Amen."

A new addition to Wesleyan's Christmas traditions was the "Hanging of the Green" held in chapel near the end of the ten days of festivity. Both students and faculty joined together to proclaim the glad tidings of Christmas through the symbols of the holly, the ivy, the mistletoe: the wreath. Through this ceremony, Wesleyan, as a community, officially observed the most beautiful holiday of the school year.

The Christmas spirit in action—these are the words which describe the tireless efforts of the Kris Kringle Kraft Klub. Many hours were spent in a labor of love planning a Christmas party for the needy children of the community. The simple reward of a twinkle of joy in the eyes of the wee ones was more than sufficient for all the work. Using "Candyland" as a theme, the students brought a few brief, but unforgettable hours of happiness to the lives of their small guests.

Special evenings of gaiety were those of the Freshman Class Christmas Dance and the all-campus Christmas party held in the gymnasium. Both will be remembered as nights when Christmas hung heavily on the frosty air.

Thus the old, but undying Christmas spirit flourished in myriad ways at Wesleyan throughout December. Carolers, snowball-battles, cocoa and cookies, gifts, door decorations, and stolen kisses under the mistletoe—all reflect the glow of the flame of Christmas at Wesleyan.

"What do you want from Santa this year, little girl?"

West Virginia Wesleyan College
Buckhannon, West Virginia

Dear Staff:

Thanks so much for asking me to choose your Queen for 1962.

It wasn't too easy a job - they're all SUCH DOLLS! - but I finally selected the following:

1) SANDRA
2) JANE
3) VIRGINIA

My photo is enclosed. They're ALL funnier-looking ones, but I guess this is the funniest!

Best of luck to all of you.

Love,

Carol Burnett

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

BOTTOM ROW: M. Gallager. L. Grafinger. D. Thomas. TOP ROW: P. Guills, C. Lucas. Dean McBrair. J. Bennett. P. Brafford.

Panhellenic Council was established to keep good relations between the women's sororities on campus. Today the scope of Panhellenic Council has broadened until this function is no longer the only one foremost in importance. This year. with Louise Grafinger heading the council as president. a few new functions were developed. As a result of the formation of a fourth sorority on campus. Panhellenic Council increased by two members and gave a tea welcoming the new group, Tau Omega Chi. on the day of their initiation. A revision of their scholarship program. Panhellenic Workshop. and serving as co-sponsors of Greek Week have kept the Council busy. Dean Marian McBrair is the advisor to the group. which consists of two members and an advisor from each of the four sororities on campus.

Sorority women joined the campus in honoring their Panhellenic Advisor, Dean Marian McBrair, at the tea welcoming her to Wesleyan's campus.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

Inter-Fraternity Council was established on Wesleyan's campus to organize the fraternities into one united group. Today it serves as the governing body of these fraternities, setting up rules for rushing and settling any disputes which might arise among the five groups. Inter-Fraternity Council also welcomed a new member this year. Delta Xi, a new local men's fraternity, keeping the total of men's groups at five.

Another of the functions of the Council is upholding the newly-formed tradition of Greek Week by joining with Panhellenic Council in planning the week's activities. The President of I.F.C. this year is James Bastian with Dean Richard A. Cunningham serving as advisor to the group.

An important part of both sorority and fraternity life is rushing. Here second semester rushees attend the Panhellenic Tea.

One of the busiest groups on campus, the Alpha Gams are growing by leaps and bounds with a spring pledge class of eighteen. About the proudest moment of the year for the Alpha Gams was at the Fall Recognition Assembly where they again received, and this time retired the Panhellenic Scholarship Award which they had won since it came into existence.

Activities for the Alpha Gams were varied in theme this year. The rush party found them with "Alice in Alpha Gam Land," their pledge dance found them twisting in "Peppermint Lounge" and Wesleyantics was a memorable occasion with their reminiscence. The annual Spring Formal was held in honor of their seniors, and their parties included a Hawaiian theme, a bowling party and a bridal shower for their president.

The Altruistic project of the Alpha Gams is helping the crippled children and this spring found them hard at work serving at the Crippled Children's Society's Pancake Supper, stuffing envelopes with letters and Easter Seals and various other activities to aid and assist the Upsher County Society.

Alpha Gamma Delta celebrated the annual Feast of Roses in February in honor of her new initiates and in April celebrated both International Reunion Day and a second initiation for their spring pledges.

After an evening of fun, smiles, and talk the Alpha Gams were increased by eighteen new pledges during second semester rushing.

"Willy Whale 'Em" was the motto of the Alpha Gams as they built their beautiful white whale representing "A Whale of a Victory."

The past year has been an eventful and exciting one for A D Pi. In addition to their second place honors won last May at the May Sing, they came back in the fall to take honors again at Homecoming. Their huge, green dragon "dragged" in a first place trophy in the homecoming parade and "Snow White" and her little friends won them an honorable mention in Wesleyantics.

Major activities of the year for A D Pi included a cook-out in the fall following a hayride. An informal Regression Party found the A D Pis going back to their childhoods with pigtails, freckles, and ultra-short dresses. Other social functions for the year included a Jungle Party, a pledge dance at Christmas and again at Valentine's Day, a Christmas party, and as a group they aided KKKK with their Children's party. Anyone attending the Upsher County March of Dimes fashion show would have seen the A D Pis, among others, to their best advantage and in all their glory—marching for the contributions of the audience.

The "Campbells" came and the A D Pis beamed after winning second place in the May Sing last spring.

With the addition of thirty-one pledges during the past year, Alpha Xi Delta has more than doubled its active chapter. Before going active these pledges, in an effort to show their enthusiasm to the actives, presented a mock-court scene complete with judge, lawyer, and defender in which each active was accused and then punished before the group.

Beginning the semester with their annual retreat on the Buckhannorn River, the Alpha Xis planned their year's activities, starting off with a Scavenger Hunt at EUB Lake. After this, plans for Homecoming were assumed and the helicopter float entitled "Whirl 'Em" brought the Alpha Xis honorable mention in the float competition. Formal rush was set forth by the Heaven and Hell rush party in which the girls dressed as demons, were led by their president dressed as Satan "herself."

Themes for the two pledge dances were "Winter Wonderland" and the "Sweetheart Dance" held in February. Other projects and parties included a bowling party, rummage sales and a candy sale.

The Alpha Xis participate in their favorite pastime of group singing at their rush party.

"Whirl 'Em" brought the Alpha Xis honorable mention in the Homecoming Parade of 1961.

This year brought a new women's sorority to being in the form of Tau Omega Chi. The chapter, whose advisor in forming was Dean Marian McBrair, was formally installed on January 7, 1962, with a tea in their honor given by Panhellenic Council following their initiation. Members forming the group were junior and senior women, with the group holding their first rush period second semester, and acquiring twelve new pledges for their first pledge class.

Activities for the group after their formation in the fall included an informal party at the home of their advisor, Dr. McBrair, a shipwreck party and a Spring Formal. The theme for their formal rush party, the only one given during second semester rush, was Roman, with rushees being greeted by Julius Caesar. The sorority got off to a good start for their first year and all of Panhellenic wishes them the best of everything.

A rousing toast gets the Tau Omegas off to a good start on Wesleyan's campus.

Their first venture at rush parties was a great success as the Tau Omegas got twelve pledges.

GREEK WEEK

A rather unique fashion show was a highlight of the variety show on Friday night.

Talent from three Greek groups comprised this clown-trampoline act.

Last year saw something new at Wesleyan as far as Greeks were concerned. Under the leadership of Margo Brookover and Dave Wilson, co-chairman for the event, the Greeks took over the campus with a week bursting with activity.

A campus mixer following the spring drama production was sponsored by Greeks; other activities included open houses held at the fraternity houses, workshops for better Greek organizations, and the major activities of work day, the variety show and the Egyptian Ball. Workday turned the Greeks out with old clothes and mop buckets. All groups trouped downtown to wash store windows on Main Street as a Town Service Project. A good time was enjoyed and a few windows got "cleaned" in the process.

Ann gives a fellow worker some able assistance while other "helpers" chat.

GREEK WEEK

Lush Egyptian and Greek decorations changed the atmosphere of the Armory for more than one dreamy couple.

Providing entertainment ranging from "Shelly Berman"—courtesy of Alpha Sigma Phi—to a clown trampoline act with composite talent from various groups, the Variety Show was a big success. Each Greek group submitted two or three entries with a variety of talent being displayed. A unique demonstration of make-up technique, a fashion show, various musical groups and a ventriloquist act rounded out the show.

Probably, the highlight of the week was the Egyptian Fantasy Costume Ball held at the National Guard Armory to climax the week's activities. The costumes displayed were of Greek, and Roman origin, colorful and original to the utmost degree. A King and Queen of the Ball were chosen on the basis of their costumes, and at intermission Coach Sam Ross crowned Millie Brooks and Tony Griffin King and Queen of the Ball.

All in all Greek Week provided the campus with an exciting view of Greek life at Wesleyan and provided the Greeks with a good chance to some fine, constructive fun.

"Don't complain, John, it's all in a day's work."

Millie beams as She and Tony are crowned Queen and King of the Ball by Sam Ross.

Thursday, September 28, 1961, saw a new fraternity officially come into being on Wesleyan's campus when the Community Council approved the constitution submitted by the fraternity president, Jerry Laukus. The group's name was to be Delta Xi, a local fraternity, hoping to affiliate with a national men's fraternity in the near future.

At present most of the group's activities are involved in letter-writing, conferences and plans for affiliation with a national fraternity and with securing a house for next year. The group is a steadily-rising one, acquiring thirteen new pledges in their first rush period, second semester. The Delta Xi's actively participated in Greek activities this year with several of their members serving on committees for Greek Week. Various informal social functions have added to their calendar of events and to their feeling for fraternity life. Wesleyan welcomes the Delta Xis to our campus and wishes them the best of everything in their plans for the future.

Delta Xi's representatives to I.F.C. chat with Dean Cunningham about fraternity life.

The largest of Wesleyan's fraternities, the Theta Chis will be found to be quite active both on Wesleyan's campus and at their beautiful house at 74 College Avenue. Instituting a new tradition this year, the Theta's have an open house every week-end for the brothers and their dates. Activities on their social calendar include their house parties, a Valentine Dance, and a Spring formal among others. This year's Dream Girl of Theta Chi is Virginia Griffin. Serenades are only a part of the Theta Chi gift to a pinned couple in that they also send the fraternity flowers to the girl immediately upon her pinning.

Homecoming, 1961, was quite a successful week-end for the Thetas. After going to Memory Land to win second place in Wesleyantics, the Theta Chis came back the next day to win second place with their float "Look's Like We'll Dunk 'Em, Donut." An impressive idea is given by the fraternity, as one may hear "We are the men of Theta Chi" being sung by any of them as they go about the campus.

Founded in the tradition of the Old South, Kappa Alpha Order is the oldest national fraternity on Wesleyan's campus. With these highly Southern traditions behind them, the highlight of the year for the KA's is Old South Week-End in which they, as a group, secede from Wesleyan's campus and from the town of Buckhannon, both secessions taking place in formal ceremonies before college and town officials. The week-end also includes a picnic, a parade, and the high point of the week-end, the Dixie Ball.

Informal house parties, a "Peppermint Lounge" twist party, and the Sweetheart Dance made up a part of the KA social calendar this year with the serenades frequently adding a measure of enjoyment to their schedule.

The Kappa Alpha Order resides at 66 South Kanawha Street, where many of their social functions and house parties are held. The Sweetheart for the Order is Sandra Horie.

A beautifully colorful float, "Don't Bet on Glenville," was displayed by Kappa Alpha Order at the Homecoming Parade.

To end the Spring Semester, the brothers coped two first places in May Day Sing 1961, first in Greek Division, and for the Best Director. To finish off the 1961 Spring Semester, the fraternity also won first place in the Greek division of intramural softball. Moving on to victory the following semester, they won two first places during Homecoming: Wesleyantics and house decorations.

At the spring formal, The Iris Ball, Josi Holtzworth was selected fraternity sweetheart. The social calendar was filled with house parties, the annual pledge dance, "Kappa Kabanna," and a Winter Formal, "Mardi Gras."

During the spring, the brothers also converted the basement into a chapter room. A delegation of three brothers represented the fraternity at the national convention, which was held in Chicago.

"Let's Unleash a Victory" was the theme for the Kappa Sigma Kappa Homecoming Float.

Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, the youngest national fraternity on Wesleyan's campus, has had a busy year along with the rest of the Greeks. Various parties, dances, and other activities were enjoyed by the brothers and their dates. Informal house parties, the Fall Pledge Dance, and "Red Death," their Valentine Dance, made up part of their social calendar for the year. Another very important phase of their activities was their participation in serenades, in which they combined their voices with those of the girls answering to serenade a "Good Night" to the pinned couple.

The Phi Sigs were distinguished at the Fall Recognition Assembly by receiving the Scholarship Award from Inter-Fraternity Council, having the highest scholastic average among the men's fraternities on campus. The fraternity resides at 102 East Main Street, this being their second year in their new house. Sweetheart of the fraternity is Susan Dobelaar Lantz.

"Glenville Ain't Worth a Plug Nickel" was the theme for the Phi Sigma Epsilon Homecoming float.

Each year, Wesleyan's cultural life is enhanced by the appearance of the Canadian Players.

"I came to talk about my niece's marriage—which now I gather is to take place tomorrow."

"Now, my dear pupil. Please! No modesty—you have the most beautiful voice I've ever heard."

"Beautiful shepherdess, I adore you."

"Don't 'Doctor Purgon' me! Never, in all my professional life, have I been so insulted."

Moliere, well-known satirist, goes all out in THE IMAGINARY INVALID as he delivers deep cuts to the pseudo-science of the medical profession. No pretense of subtlety is given while he probes away with his verbal scalpel into the men of the stethoscope.

According to Mrs. Betty Norvell, the play's director, THE IMAGINARY INVALID was "one of the easiest plays to work with and by far the most fun to do." The actors agree with her on both points and the audience was treated to one of the most enjoyable plays ever presented on Wesleyan's stage.

"Here we are—Hic nos sumus—Omnes Learned Doctori—Eminent Professior Clever, skillful Surgeoni Venerable Physicianes, —Every kins of Medici!"

THE CANADIAN PLAYERS

"It's unfortunate, consdering the wide choice of living matter on this globe, that I should have managed to be a mother. I can't imagine what I was thinking of."

The Canadian Players made their second annual appearance at Wesleyan on November 11, 1961. Their productions for this season were Shakespeare's KING LEAR, a pagan pre-Christian play about the dying of a man, and Christopher Fry's THE LADY'S NOT FOR BURNING, a poetic argument between life and death stated in comedic and optimistic terms.

LEAR, the classic tragedy, and LADY, the satirical comedy, were both extremely well-received by the Wesleyan theatre-going community. We look forward to their return visit next year.

"Thou shouldst not have been old till thou hadst been wise."

The "drunk" steals the show in the final scene of LADY.

CHRIST IN THE CONCRETE CITY

"Look! Here is the god you have made, bow down and worship."

"Hang! Of course he'll hang. Caiaphas sentenced him, didn't he?"

According to Mrs. Norvell, director of the play, "The purpose of Christ in the Concrete City was to emphasize that the death and resurrection of Christ are relevant in our lives now—by re-enacting the historical instances and by choral comments."

The Playshop production of this play left its audience in a thoughtful mood. Its effectiveness as religious drama was evidenced by the performances of the play for the Methodist Student Movement of West Liberty State College and at this spring's meeting of the West Virginia Conference of the Methodist Church.

The 1961 West Virginia Wesleyan Bobcat football team swept into the pre-season football camp with only one thought in mind—to win the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference football crown—and they achieved their goal in a thrilling fashion.

Drills in the warm August sun and under the lights with cool evening breezes coupled with constant coaching and chalk talks were the only overture of the exciting season to come.

On September 23, the chargers crossed into Ohio to tackle the highly rated Mount Union Raiders.

Wesleyan punted early and then watched in unbelievable horror as a Raider scooted 57 yards to paydirt one play later.

Bill Wood, the Bobcat's starting halfback, took the situation in hand as he scored within a matter of minutes on a pass play of 55 yards from quarterback, Charlie Emery. Wesleyan led 7-6 and the season was underway.

The unbeatable Bobcat defense held tight and the Raiders were forced to watch the visiting West Virginians play their own brand of ball for the remainder of the game.

Steve Kapostas, the hardest charging of the Wesleyan backs, slices through a hole in the Wesleyan line on blocking by George Lohman, Tom Hinkle, and Ted Warohlak in the Glenville victory.

Dan Pearce is stopped short of the goal line by the Fairmont defensive unit. Moments later, Pearce evaded the same unit to score Wesleyan's first touchdown of the game.

Bill Wood follows his blockers for extra yards.

The evening of September 30, the Bobcats got their first conference test against an undefeated Fairmont squad.

Wesleyan struck fast with two touchdowns in the first quarter for a 13-0 lead.

Dan Pearce baptized the Falcons with a 15 yard sweep around end for the first TD and Bill Wood scored moments later on a 40 yard pass interception play.

Fairmont's Beasley got the visitors back in the game on a 35 yard spine chiller. A determined offensive line coasted Jim Hawkins across the goal line to erase the Fairmont threat.

With the Rossmen marking time, the Falcons crept to the two yard line as the clock ticked away the final seconds of the half. With only 31 seconds remaining in the half, Stimmel pulled Fairmont within shouting distance of Wesleyan at 20-13.

"The Galloping Ghost"

A diving catch by Rall

Twice in the second half, the Ross defensive wall, led by George Lohman and Steve Ford, stopped Fairmont short of pay dirt. The Falcons still had a lot of fight in them and they scratched hard until Bill Wood broke away on a 91 yard run to give Wesleyan a 27-13 win.

Wood made enough yardage in the contest to give him the national leadership. The racing back was slowed down as the season progressed but he still had more than enough to capture the conference rushing crown.

Jim Hawkins made use of the efforts of Glen Beeson, George Lohman, and Boyd Dotson as he plunged through the middle for another touchdown.

Bill Wood romps against the Glenville Pioneers with blocking from Glen Beeson in the Homecoming game.

Slats Laramore
Defensive ace.

The match of the giants came at Hite Field in Clarksburg on October 7, a day Wesleyan fans will never forget. when the Bobcats met Salem.

In this contest. Wesleyan smashed to an easy 19-0 halftime lead on touchdowns by Bill Wood and Jim Hawkins and then lost the game in the second half 20-19.

The exhausted Bobcat defense. tired from a superb first half. completely collapsed in the second half and Salem won the come-from-behind victory of the year.

Gene Rall boots the ball through the goal posts for an important point after touchdown during the Glenville game.

Homecoming, 1961, had an added meaning to the squad as they tried to get back on the championship express.

Bill Wood, Gene Rall, and Charlie Emery teamed up to give Wesleyan a 13-0 lead over Glenville at the half.

Jim Hawkins added another touchdown early in the second half to make the score a commanding, if not comfortable, 20-0.

The Salem performance was not to be repeated as the defense, headed by Slats Laramore and Cincy Brown, pushed the Glenville squad deep into the mud.

Head Coach Sam Ross sent in the defensive reserves late in the game and Glenville scored.

But it was too late for the Pioneers as the Bobcats captured a 20-6 victory and were on their way again.

The gridders now had only one tough game remaining on their lop-sided schedule.

The following week, they traveled to Martin's Ferry, Ohio, to meet the championship-minded West Liberty Hilltoppers.

Head Coach Sam Ross ruled with an iron hand in practice sessions following the Salem defeat of Wesleyan.

Jim Hawkins powers his way through the Glenville defense for his fourth touchdown of the year.

Dan Pearce follows Hawkins for 15 yards.

The Bobcat football team played its finest game of the year as the squad shut out the West Liberty Hilltoppers. 19-0 on three touchdowns by Hawkins.

With three easy games remaining. the Rossmen stomped to the WVIAC conference championship with ease.

They downed Bridgewater. 17-12. smashed Davis and Elkins. 40-7. and breezed by Bethany. 30-0.

The Salem Tigers. only other contender for the crown. were upset by the Glenville Pioneers. 13-12. and Wesleyan was declared the 1961 football champions.

The squad prepared itself for the second annual bowl game with the angry Tigers for Thanksgiving Day.

The Thanksgiving Day Bowl Game was played at Hite Field in Clarksburg the afternoon of November 23 between Wesleyan. the conference champions. and Salem, the only team to defeat the Battling Bobcats.

Outstanding defensive play by hoth teams highlighted the first half as neither team was able to penetrate far into enemy territory.

Then, early in the third quarter, defensive halfback, Sonny Tenney, caught a punted ball on the Bobcat 35 yard line and scooted down the sidelines for a 6-0 lead.

Salem helmets formed craters in the mud as the disgusted Tigers failed to even the score. Wesleyan's George Lohman, Steve Ford. Bob White, and Slats Laramore formed a tough defensive nucleus that halted all Tiger threats. Jim Hawkins carted the ball across the goal line as the clock ran out and Wesleyan was the victor of their eighth win, 12-0.

Jim Hawkins accepts a handshake from Coach Ross as he receives the Most Valuable Player award of the bowl game in the Fall recognition assembly. He also won the Colonel Frank Thompson Award.

And they're off against Bethany as the gun sounds.

John Nye sparked the Wesleyan cross-country team for the third straight year as he was the only one of Coach Reemsnyder's thinclads to capture first place.

Nye set a new course record when he ran three and one-half miles in 20 minutes and 11 seconds against Fairmont on October 14.

Lettermen for the squad were John Nye and his brother Bill, Fay Converse, Paul Marraccini, and Norvin Richards.

The Wesleyan soccer team, in its third year on the campus, compiled a 1, 4, and 1 record. The team, coached by student Don Campbell, was led in scoring by Randy Teaf with a total of 6 goals.

Teaf had his biggest afternoon against West Virginia University on October 6 when he scored three goals, a feat comparable to a no-hitter in baseball.

The 1961-1962 basketball season was one of spurts and splashes and a line chart of the season's results would look more like a contour map of the Alpines.

Coach Hank Ellis, after reaching moderate success in his rebuilding program of the previous season, saw all his plans fall short as Gerry Urish didn't return to college and Marlo Mills, the team's greatest strength, was declared ineligible on the eve of the first game of the year.

The squad began its season assault on the conference crown with participation in a warm-up tournament at Weston on November 28.

Slightly withered from the news that Mills, the center, was out for the season, Coach Ellis quickly substituted Gary Dawson into the captain's position and the team was ready to face Alderson-Broaddus, their first foe.

There was a cry of "Rally 'round the flag," and Wesleyan won the game, 86-75.

The following night the ax fell and Glenville upended the Bobcats, 97-71, to win the tournament.

Don Jimison drives in for two points against Glenville early in the season.

Pat Mistretta gets the center tap for Wesleyan as Fred Suder, John Teets, and Terry Moore tighten up for action in the Morris Harvey game.

With Assistant Coach Sam Ross at the reins, Wesleyan dropped its next two non-conference games against Pikeville, Kentucky, and Marietta, Ohio.

Then, in the lone bright spot of the season, the squad caught fire behind the performances of Bill Grimes and Terry Moore to beat both Fairmont and Bluefield. Grimes turned in the greatest one-man show of the year when he poured in 38 points against the shocked Falcons. The following night against Bluefield, Terry Moore took up the slack with 24 impressive points.

In the final match before the Christmas recess, the light that had burned so brightly went out and Wesleyan fell hard beneath the crush of the Glenville Pioneers.

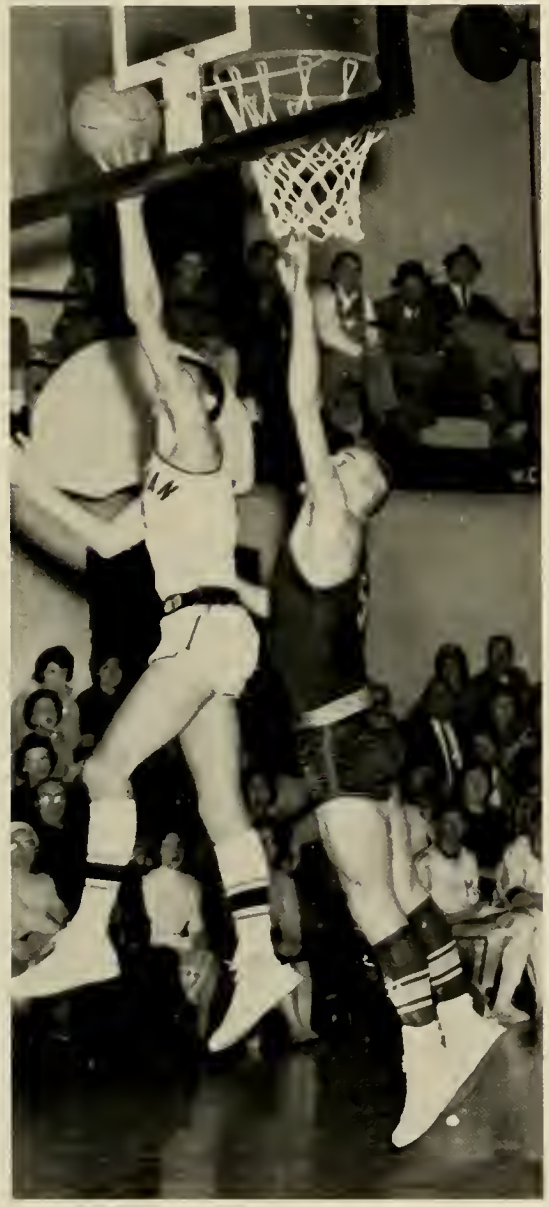
In a Christmas tournament at Canton, Ohio, the Bobcats, under Hank Ellis, were annihilated by the Citadel and then lost the consolation game to Kent State. However, Kent State had an ineligible player and later forfeited the game to Wesleyan.

Fred Suder pumps in a jump shot as Boyd Dotson crowds his way under the basket for a possible rebound against Pikeville, Kentucky.

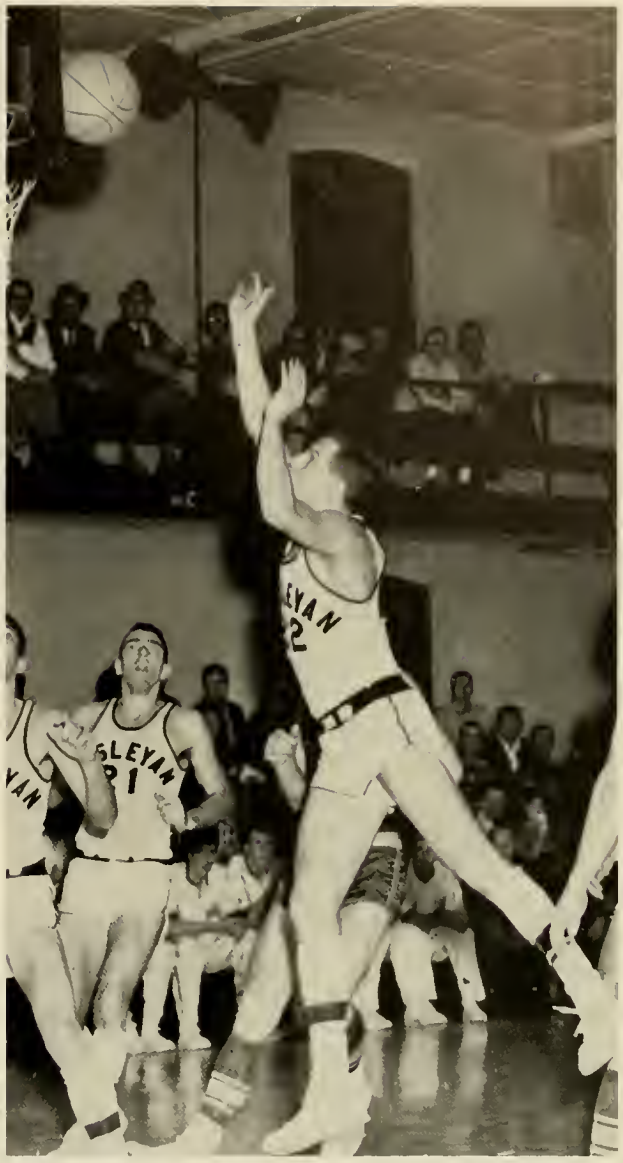
Dotson knocks in two of his own a few minutes later as Bill Grimes feels his way through the Pikeville defenders.

Wesleyan completely collapsed after the Christmas recess, winning only against the poor Davis and Elkins Senators and the still worse Alderson-Broaddus Battlers to win four out of fifteen games.

The season ended on a high note as Mike Friend plopped in the winning basket to beat Davis and Elkins with nine seconds left.



Fred Suder, a sterling freshman performer, scores a basket in the Morris Harvey game.



Bill Grimes shows his style as he swishes in a basket against Morris Harvey on his way to a 38 point total.

Bill Grimes, Fred Suder, Don Jimison, Bill Rine, and Terry Moore constituted the usual Wesleyan starting five as the Bobcats crept to a disappointing 8 and 15 season record. Wesleyan's worst since 1953.

Gary Dawson, a senior from Charleston, served as captain of the embattled Bobcats.

John Lesko, Fay Converse, Art Bartrug, Phil Hall, and Jerry Laukus lettered for the golfers.

The team had their troubles during most of the spring but managed to defeat West Virginia Tech, Alderson-Broaddus, Davis and Elkins, and then beat the Senators again in the final game of the year.

Dave Reemsnyder coached the golf team in their endeavors at the Buckhannon Country Club where all home matches were held.

Even though the 1961 tennis team had an 8 and 1 record, they were still disappointed at the outcome of the state tournament at Bethany.

For the second consecutive year, a great Wesleyan tennis squad went to the WVIAC tourney sporting a good record only to be washed out in a steady downpour of rain.

All members, with the exception of Jim Ayers, lost in the second and third rounds. Jim Ayers, the captain and number one man, beat his first three opponents but then lost to Bethany's Joe Kurey in the semi-finals.

During the regular season, Ed Fujimoto and Harvey Morita had the best records. Ed was undefeated in 8 matches and Harvey won eight and lost 1.

The team lettermen were Jim Ayers, first man, Ray Mukoda, second man, Harvey Morita, third man, Andy Kessler, fourth man, Ed Fujimoto, fifth man, and Dave Heatwole, sixth man.

The Wesleyan baseball team, under the competent coaching of "Hank" Ellis, came within points of winning the 1961 WVIAC baseball crown.

The victory of Concord over Wesleyan by a lone run enabled Concord, with a comparable season record, to capture the crown.

The season was highlighted by John Teet's twin victories over the West Virginia University Mountaineers and by the 9-2 season record of the Bobcats.

Al Snyder had a .432 batting average and Bob Sueter had a .411 batting average to lead the Ellismen in that department.

Steve Kapostas compiled the best pitching record with an earned run average of 0.00 in three victories on the mound.

Jack Wilfong, with a 2-0 record as a pitcher, also had a 0.00 E.R.A.

With Denny Cannon at first base, Bob Sueter at second base, John Nye at short stop, and Jack Chotta at third base, the squad had one of the tighter infields in the WVIAC.

Wesleyan's cindermen, captained by Ron Pennington and coached by Sam Ross, didn't repeat at state champions. However, the season was exciting and was loaded with highlights.

Dale Crouser was the squad's most valuable player with many victories in the 100 yard dash, the 220 yard dash, the broad jump, and the low hurdles.

Boyd Dotson also added strength to the team with first place points in the high jump, shot put, and broad jump.

Tom Hinkle was the state pole vault champion as he soared over the cross bar in the WVIAC track meet at Wheeling.

The best meet for the Rossmen came in the West Virginia Invitational in Charleston. The team came in second behind a forceful Kentucky State squad as it nosed out powerful West Virginia State.

Wesleyan's men's and women's intramurals provided the fans and participants with many exciting moments during the school year. Most evenings found the gymnasium filled with screeching screamings and hurtling yelps of fun.

The intramural program was open to both Greek and independent teams with trophies given to the winners of the Greek divisions.

Theta Chi dominated Greek action with the championship in touch football, volleyball, and basketball. Kappa Sigma Kappa was the softball winner for 1961.

CHEER LEADERS

Bev Smith, Team Captain, makes a save near the Bobkitten goal in a Homecoming match.

Wesleyan's varsity Bobkitten Girl's Field Hockey team combined skill and teamwork to record an enjoyable. if not successful season.

The squad encountered the Davis and Elkins stickmen twice. tying once. 1-1, and finding themselves on the short end of a 4-1 decision.

Senior Beverly Smith not only coached the team. but also added her skill in playing left fullback and served as captain.

Ann Hale had an especially successful season as the team's goalie and made several sparkling saves.

Bette Broughton tries to get a goal during the first Davis and Elkins match.

The Wesleyan cheerleaders, captained by Ginny Griffin, braved stormy weather, Homecoming rain, football mud, and snowy basketball trips in their efforts to be on hand to cheer the Bobcats onto victory.

The group, made up of Elain Voitelle, Josie Holtzworth, Joyce Rapp, Kathy Friebertshauser, and alternate Sally Young, were successful and their rolling Wesleyan locomotive was partly responsible for eight football victories, and eight basketball wins.

The culmination of success was preceded with many long practice sessions in the gymnasium with enthusiastic cheers beating against the echoing corridors.

Happy after victory and inconsolable after a loss, the cheerleaders were easily identified by hoarse voices and lettered megaphones.

DAVE REEMSNYDER

Mr. Reemsnyder served his twenty-sixth year at Wesleyan and has spent his last few years as both the Director of Athletics and as a coach.

As Director of Athletics, it was his duty to schedule all the various varsity events, all the intramural activities, and to hire the officials for the games.

A former All-American in football, Dave played on some of the powerful Wesleyan teams of the 1930's.

The past year, he coached cross country, tennis, and golf and had moderately successful seasons on all fronts, with his zenith coming in tennis during the spring of 1961.

Mr. Ellis swept Wesleyan through its twelfth basketball season with him as coach.

Hank, a Wesleyan graduate, is ranked in the top fifty of the nation's coaches and took Bobcat basketball teams to the national NAIA tournament in Kansas City for three straight years.

Rebuilding during the 1961-1962 season, he struggled hard but was unable to save the squad from the severe beatings the powers inflicted upon them.

However, his pain was eased by the successful baseball season he coached in the spring.

Mr. Ellis also served as the Chairman of the athletic department.

HANK ELLIS

SAM ROSS

Sam Ross reached the climax of a four-year football coaching career at Wesleyan when he led the squad to the school's first championship in the history of the WVIAC.

Sam, who also doubled as track coach, was largely responsible for the team's lowly rise from a 2, 4, and 2 record his first year at the helm to an 8 and 1 record and the conference crown.

A former Wesleyan quarterback, Sam successfully called the plays that the Bobcats needed to win in 1961.

Then, before a stunned assembly in January, Sam announced that he was stepping down from the coaching ranks to be the new Dean of Men.

Coach Ross was then warmly congratulated by the members of the 1961 Wesleyan football team for a job well done.

Bill "Tiger" McTaggart, a senior, saw an exciting three years as the director of sport's publicity come to a close as graduation drew near the spring of 1962.

Tiger was successful in winning All-American honors for six Wesleyan athletes during his reign.

He had three in basketball, Ken Remley, Jim McDonald, and Bill Smith; and three in football, Dean Patenaude, Sam Gross, and Ted Waroblak.

He became well-known throughout the state by his articles and had a six-page story on Wesleyan athletics published in COACH & ATHLETE magazine in January, 1961.

Tiger also served in various other capacities in his support of Wesleyan athletics.

BILL McTAGGART

CHARLIE ALLMAN

Charlie, a senior, ended a three-year reign as Wesleyan's basketball manager.

He was popular for his fiery spirit and never-say-die loyalty.

BUTCH POWELL

Butch, also a senior, finished a four-year job of service as the athletic trainer.

He became a welcome friend to all the players and saved a lot of them from serious injury.
